JERRY COLANGELO
General Manager

COLLEGE: University of Illinois '62
DEGREE: B.A. Physical Education
HIGH SCHOOL: Bloom Township High School, Chicago Heights, Illinois

SPORTS MANAGEMENT CAPSULE: Colangelo is now in his fifteenth year with the Suns, giving him an NBA tenancy second only to Red Auerbach of the Celtics. Under Colangelo's guidance the Suns have grown into one of the most stable franchises in the NBA with over 8000 season tickets and record breaking attendance totals for seven straight seasons.

On two occasions, Colangelo has stepped in to assume the Suns coaching reins in addition to his front office duties. During the 1969-70 season he replaced Johnny Kerr at midseason and guided the club to a playoff appearance in only their second year of existence. In 1972-73 Colangelo fired Butch van Breda Kolff after seven games and then went 35-40 the rest of the season, as Phoenix finished with a 38-44 mark.

Colangelo began his sports management career as the Head Scout and Director of Merchandising for the Chicago Bulls when they entered the NBA in 1966, and later became Executive Assistant to Dick Klein, President and General Manager of the Bulls. When he took the Suns helm on March 1, 1968, Jerry was only 28 years of age, the youngest General Manager in professional sports. Jerry now serves on several advisory organizations for the NBA, and is Chairman of the Competition and Rules Committee. Last year he was elected to Board of Trustees of Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass.

Jerry was named NBA Executive of the Year by "The Sporting News" following the 1975-76 season and again following the 1980-81 season.

COLLEGE CAPSULE: First enrolled at Kansas, where Wilt Chamberlain was expected to lead the Jayhawks to the national title. When Chamberlain decided to forgo his senior season to join the Harlem Globetrotters, Colangelo transferred to the University of Illinois, where he earned All-Big Ten honors, averaging 15 points per game. Captained the freshman team at Kansas and captained Illinois as a senior. Also played two years of baseball at Illinois. Named to Illinois Basketball Hall of Fame.

HIGH SCHOOL CAPSULE: Played for Bloom Township High in Chicago Heights, Illinois, averaging 15 points per game. Hit a high of 35 points to set a school record in 1957. With Colangelo at guard the team went 22-6 and 27-2 for a 48-8 overall record and two appearances in the Illinois State Championship Tournament. He was also the top pitcher on the school baseball team that also featured Jim Bouton, who later played for the NY Yankees. Upon graduation Jerry had 66 scholarship offers for college basketball and seven offers for pro baseball contracts. Earned All-State recognition in basketball as a senior.

PERSONAL CAPSULE: Since arriving in the Valley of the Sun, Jerry has been a tireless worker in service to the Phoenix community. He has served as President of the Big Brothers and is an active member of the Phoenix Thunderbirds, a group dedicated to the promotion of Phoenix through sports. In 1971 he was honored by the Phoenix Jaycees as one of the three Outstanding Young Men in Arizona.

In 1976 he was awarded the American Heritage Award by the Anti Defamation League of B'nai Brith, and was also named the Arizona Sports Personality of the Year by the Phoenix Press Box Association. He has also been cited by the City of Phoenix, the Boys Clubs of Phoenix, and the Boy Scouts for his many contributions to the community.

Jerry and his wife, Joan, live in north central Phoenix and have four children, Kathy (21), Kristen (19), Bryan (17), and Mandie Brooke (4). Jerry was born 11/20/39 in the old Italian neighborhood they call "Hungry Hill" in Chicago Heights.

JOHN MacLEOD
Head Coach

COLLEGE: Bellarmine (Kentucky) '59
DEGREE: B.A., M.A. Physical Education and History from Indiana State
HIGH SCHOOL: Providence-Clarkdale, Indiana

PRO COACHING CAPSULE: Signed as the fifth Head Coach of the Suns on March 30, 1973. Now in his tenth season as the Suns head man. Has strong defensive philosophy and a disciplined approach to the game. Regarded in basketball circles as one of the top coaches in the game. A 1980-81 Newspaper Enterprise Association survey of N.B.A. coaches named MacLeod "Best Coach." A 1979 Sport magazine poll rated MacLeod the league's number two coach. Guided the Suns to a club record 57 wins in 1980-81. His Suns teams have been in post season play for six of the last seven seasons.

COLLEGE COACHING CAPSULE: Went to Oklahoma as freshman coach in 1966 and forged a 7-1 mark, the best frosh record in the school's history, and succeeded Bob Stevens as head coach the following year. Oklahoma cage fortunes were at a low ebb, but MacLeod turned the program around going 13-13, 7-19, 19-9, 19-8, 14-12 and 18-8 during his six seasons there. Under MacLeod the Sooners made two trips to the National Invitation Tournament and compiled a 90-69 overall record. Three of MacLeod's former Oklahoma players have enjoyed long careers in the NBA, Clifford Ray, Alvan Adams and Gar Heard.

HIGH SCHOOL COACHING CAPSULE: At Smithville High School in Indiana in 1963-64, a rural community about eight miles southeast of Bloomington, MacLeod was Athletic Director, coach in basketball, baseball and cross country. The school's enrollment was 135 and the gym's capacity was 3,800! An assistant at Louisville DeSales High and Indianapolis Cathedral, MacLeod's only job as a prep head coach was at Smithville, where he was 16-24 over two seasons.

ATHLETIC BACKGROUND: MacLeod won seven high school letters (three each in basketball and football, and another in cross-country at Providence High School in Clarksdale, Indiana). Established a Bellarmine College record by earning 10 varsity monograms. In college basketball MacLeod was a good passer and defensive player, but a non-starter. At one time was sparring partner for boxer Jimmy Ellis. Was voted Most Outstanding Player in a Louisville amateur baseball league in 1961, and was a left handed outfielder-catcher with a powerful arm and great potential, but damaged the arm throwing baseballs at milk bottles at an Altoona, Pa. amusement park. Jogs daily to keep in condition. Named Coach of the Year in 1979 by the Phoenix Press Box Association.

PERSONAL CAPSULE: Married to the former Carol McGroder, erstwhile TV actress, who is now active in Phoenix theatre groups. MacLeod was born 10/3/37 in New Albany, Indiana. MacLeod annually sponsors a golf tournament in Phoenix to benefit local charities, and serves as Head Coach of the Arizona Special Olympics. The MacLeods have two children, Kathleen Ann (7½) and Matthew Patrick (5).

YEAR BY YEAR WITH THE SUNS

1968-69 — On January 22, 1968 the N.B.A. Board of Governors granted a franchise to the city of Phoenix. On April 25, 1968, the name "SUNS" was selected in a contest sponsored by The Arizona Republic. The winning entry was submitted by Mrs. Selinda King of Phoenix. Suns suffered through their first season of existence with a 16-66 record. Gail Goodrich led in scoring with 1,931 points and a 23.8 average. Dick Van Arsdale averaged 21.0. Johnny Kerr was the coach. Goodrich and Van Arsdale each appeared in the NBA All-Star game at Baltimore. (Record: 16-66)

1969-70 — Connie Hawkins joined the scene from the ABA and led the Suns in scoring with a 24.6 average, earning a starting berth in the All-Star Game and gaining first team All-Pro honors. Van Arsdale was also named to the All-Star team in January. Midway through the season, Johnny Kerr stepped down as coach and general manager Jerry Colangelo took over. Colangelo guided the club into the playoffs and extended Los Angeles to seven games before being eliminated. (Record: 39-43)

1970-71 — Under new coach Cotton Fitzsimmons, Phoenix posted the fourth best record in the NBA, but failed to make the playoffs, finishing third behind Milwaukee and Chicago. Van Arsdale led the club in scoring with a 21.9 average and Paul Silas led in rebounding for the second straight season. Van Arsdale and Hawkins were again named to the All-Star team. (Record: 48-34)

1971-72 — Suns posted a club record 49-33 won-lost mark but failed to make the playoffs finishing behind Milwaukee and Chicago in the Midwest Division. Suns record was sixth best in the entire NBA. Connie Hawkins led club in scoring with 21.0 average and Paul Silas led in rebounding and assists. Hawkins and Silas were named to the West team for the All-Star Game. Fitzsimmons was the coach. (Record: 49-33)

1972-73 — Suns fell off to a 38-44 mark and finished third in the Pacific Division. Charlie Scott led the club in scoring with a record 25.3 average and along with Connie Hawkins was named to the Western Conference All-Star Team. Seven games into the season, Bill van Breda Kolff was fired as coach and Jerry Colangelo assumed the duties for the remainder of the season. (Record: 38-44)

1973-74 — John MacLeod took the Suns coaching reins from Colangelo. Early in the season Connie Hawkins was traded to Los Angeles for Keith Erickson, who by season's end was named the Suns Most Outstanding Player. Charlie Scott led the club in scoring average with 25.4 points per game but missed the final 29 games with a broken arm. The Suns finished fourth in the Pacific Division with a 30-52 mark. Van Arsdale led the club in point production with 1389 and shooting percentage (.500) and Scott was the lone Suns All-Star representative. (Record: 30-52)

1974-75 — The season was preceded by one of the largest transactions in Suns history with center Neal Walk and a second round draft pick going to New Orleans in exchange for Curtis Perry, Dennis Awtrey, Nate Hawthorne and a first round pick in 1976. Perry had his best season as a pro averaging 12 points and 12 rebounds per game winning both the Suns' Most Outstanding and Most Popular Player Awards. In late February, the Suns had a shot in the NBA playoffs, but injuries to Van Arsdale and Erickson knocked them from contention. The Suns finished fourth in the Pacific Division with a 32-50 mark. Charlie Scott was the Suns only All-Star representative in the first NBA All-Star Game played in Phoenix. Scott finished the season as the club's leading scorer with 24.3 points per game. Perry was listed as the #10 rebounder in the NBA. (Record: 32-50)

1975-76 — The most exciting season in Suns history began with the Suns flying out of the gate with a 14-9 start, their best ever. A string of injuries and a puzzling mid-season slump had the Suns winning only 4 of their next 22 but after the All-Star break the Suns caught fire going 24-13 and storming into the playoffs against the Seattle SuperSonics. There were several reasons for the Suns turnaround: a Charlie Scott for Paul Westphal trade in the off-season, the drafting of Alvan Adams and Ricky Sobers, the acquisition of Al Bianchi as assistant coach and the mid-season trade that sent John Shumate to Buffalo and brought Garfield Heard to Phoenix. Phoenix eliminated the Sonics 4-2, then went on to upset the World Champion Golden State Warriors 4-3 and gain the N.B.A. finals against the Boston Celtics. The Suns lost the first two games in Boston but came back to knot the series with a pair of victories in Phoenix. Game five will go down in basketball history as the most exciting game ever played. A triple overtime contest that eluded the Suns by a few precious seconds and cost them the World Championship. Boston won the series 4-2. Rookie Alvan Adams was named the N.B.A. Rookie of the Year and became only the tenth first year player to be named to the mid-season All-Star Game. General Manager Jerry Colangelo was named Executive of the Year by The Sporting News. (Record: 42-40)

1976-77 — Tom and Dick Van Arsdale were playing on the same team for the first time as pros. The Suns entered the year with the highest of expectations, then watched helplessly as injuries eventually claimed the entire starting front line. Forwards Gar Heard and Curtis Perry each missed nearly half the season and center Alvan Adams was injured in the fourth game of the season and didn't regain top form until February. The Suns had all players healthy and available for duty for only six games the entire season. The Suns finished 34-48, 5th in the Pacific Division. Paul Westphal led the club in scoring (21.3) for the second straight season and was named to the All-N.B.A. Team for the first time in his career. Rookie Ron Lee was named to the N.B.A. All Rookie Team and the Suns set a new home attendance mark, averaging over 10,000 fans per game. Westphal was voted to the starting unit of the West squad at the N.B.A. All-Star Game in Milwaukee, scored 20 points and nearly captured the game's M.V.P. award. As a team the Suns set a new assist record 2100 breaking the record they set in 1975-76. At the conclusion of the season, both Tom and Dick Van Arsdale retired from the N.B.A. (Record: 34-48)

1977-78 — The Suns announced a block-buster trade just before the opening of the season . . . Ricky Sobers to Indiana for guard Don Buse, an All-Star and the NBA leader in both assists and steals. With Buse and rookie Walter Davis new faces in the starting line-up, the Suns bolted from the gate, were 19-11 by Christmas and 34-16 by the February All-Star break. They finished with a 49-33 record, fourth best in basketball, but were second in the Pacific Division behind the formidable Portland Trail Blazers. It was a record year for the Suns in many ways. A franchise record was set for attendance (11,464 per game) and on the court the Suns set NBA records for team steals in a season (1059) as well as tying the league mark for assists (2338). Walter Davis and Paul Westphal were among the league's top ten scorers with better than 20 points per game, both were named Second All-NBA and both participated for the West at the All-Star Game in Atlanta, Westphal as a starter. Davis went on to become the league's Rookie of the Year and Don Buse was named to the NBA All-Defensive team. Ron Lee led the league in steals with 2.7 thefts per game. At the All-Star break the Suns lost forward Curtis Perry with back problems and went the rest of the season with five rookies on the roster, more than any other NBA club. In the opening (Best of Three) round in the NBA Playoffs the Suns were surprised in two straight games by the Milwaukee Bucks. (Record: 49-33)

1978-79 — Phoenix opened the regular season with the same starting linup that began the 77-78 season: Walter Davis and Gar Heard at forward, Alvan Adams at center, with Paul Westphal and Don Buse at guard. The Suns won five of their first six games and were 24-14 by January 1, 1979. By the February 4 All-Star break the Suns were 32-20. For the third straight year, Westphal started in the All-Star classic, and Davis made it for the second year in a row. On January 12, 1979 the Suns consummated the major trade of the N.B.A. season obtaining Len "Truck" Robinson from the New Orleans Jazz in exchange for guard Ron Lee, forward Marty Byrnes, first round picks in 1979 and 1980 and undisclosed cash. Three days later the Suns signed guard Ted McClain as a free agent to complete their roster. Before the arrival of Robinson the Suns were 26-17. With Robinson in the line-up for 19 games Phoenix went 10-9. Then on February 24, following a road loss at Atlanta, Robinson complained of a rash and pain in his ankle and knee joints. When the team returned to Phoenix, Robinson was hospitalized with a 103.8 degree temperature, hives, and severe swelling and pain in the joints. Robinson was hospitalized for 12 days with what doctors termed "a severe viral infection, cause unknown." Robinson missed 13 games while recovering from the ailment and the Suns went 9-4 during that time. MacLeod brought Truck along slowly as the season ended to avoid a possible relapse. Robinson missed over a month of the season, returning to action on March 28. With an emotional overtime win over Seattle at Phoenix on March 30, the Suns qualified for the N.B.A. playoffs for the second year in a row and the fourth time in their 11 N.B.A. seasons. The Suns won eight games in a row down the stretch before losing their last two games at San Diego and at Los Angeles to close the 1978-79 season with the best record in franchise history 50-32. The Suns FG% of .512 set a club record and was second in the NBA to Los Angeles. The Suns also set a club record for assists with 2500 but were second in the NBA to Milwaukee. Phoenix did lead the NBA is steals however with 915, an average of 11.2 per game. Westphal was named First Team All League, Davis Second Team. Buse was named to the All Defensive squad. In the Playoffs the Suns got by Portland (2-1), thrashed Kansas City (4-1) but lost 3-4 to eventual World Champion Seattle in a hard-fought series. (Record: 50-32)

1979-80 — Phoenix opened the regular season on October 12, 1979 with a starting line-up of Walter Davis and Truck Robinson at forward, Alvan Adams at center, with guards Don Buse and Paul Westphal. The Suns were the only team in the N.B.A. with five former All-Star game participants as starters. The Suns defeated Golden State in the opener 97-89 and went on to win three in row to open the season. However, they dropped the next four games in a row, and at 3-4 dipped below the .500 mark for the only time during the season. By New Year's Day Phoenix was 26-14 and 35-19 at the All-Star break. During December, the Suns hammered out a nine game winning streak to tie an all-time club record. Jeff Cook was the starting center in eight of the nine games, as Alvan Adams sat out with a foot injury. On February 15, the Suns obtained 7-0 center Rich Kelley from the New Jersey Nets in exchange for a second round Suns Draft Pick in 1983, a first round pick in 1982 and cash. To make room for Kelley on the Suns roster, Joel Kramer was placed on the Suns injured list with bruised ribs. The Suns chased Seattle and Los Angeles for the Division lead for virtually the entire 82 game schedule, moving into a tie for the lead for just a short stretch in late November and early December. For the majority of the season though, the Suns were ensconced in third place in the Pacific. Phoenix finished the season with the best overall record in the club's history (55-27) eclipsing the old record by five wins. They also set a franchise record for most wins at home (36-5) giving them a second place tie for the best home record in the NBA this season. Phoenix won 13 of the final 16 regular season games, including their last nine in a row at home. They won 28 of their last 30 home games and their 12-3 record for the last month was their best March ever. In games when the Suns scored 115 or more points, they went 27-2. They were held under 100 points in only three of their last 52 games. For the second season in a row Don Buse, Alvan Adams, Walter Davis and Paul Westphal all finished with over 300 Assists, the only times in N.B.A. history that four players on the same team have accomplished this feat. The Suns were 2-1 in overtime and in games decided by four points or less Phoenix won 15 and lost 6. On the final night of the regular season, the Suns shattered their record for regular season attendance and for the year drew a total of 480,659 fans to the Arizona Veteran's Memorial Coliseum (capacity 12,660), an average crowd of 11,723. The Suns were also fourth in the N.B.A. in season ticket sales with 8,010 for the 1979-80 season. Davis & Westphal played in the NBA All Star game in Washington and Westphal was named First Team, Davis Second Team on the post season All NBA Squad. In Playoffs Suns defeated Kansas City 2-1, lost to Los Angeles 1-4. (Record: 55-27)

1980-81 — For the Phoenix Suns, the 1980-81 regular season began as a bold experiment and ended as an unqualified success.

When the Suns opened the campaign in October, questions surrounded newcomer Dennis Johnson, who had come to the Suns in the controversial deal that sent Paul Westphal to Seattle. There also were doubts about the Suns ability to adjust to the move of All-Star forward Walter Davis to the backcourt and to Jeff Cook moving into the starting line-up at forward.

The Suns responded with their most successful season ever, finishing with a club record 57 wins against 25 losses and winning their first division title and clinching the best record in the Western Conference.

Phoenix opened the year with three straight wins before losing to the Lakers on October 17, the loss dropped the Suns out of first place for two days. It was the only time during the season that the Suns were not in first place, regaining the top spot to stay on October 20.

The Suns 36-5 home record tied last season's mark as the best in the club's history and their 21-20 record on the road was the first winning road record in the team's annals.

Phoenix started hot, winning 11 of their first 12 games, including a winning streak of eight in a row. The Suns did not lose more than two games in a row all season. They finished the season with a 16-9 record following the February 1st All-Star game.

In games decided by five points or less, the Suns were 13-8 on the season, and for the record, they finished second in the league in Steals (876), seventh in Offense (110.0) and third in Defense (104.5). Along the way, they also set a new club record for Blocked Shots (416) and Attendance. Drawing a total of 482,693 to the 12,660 seat Arizona Veteran's Memorial Coliseum, the Suns averaged 11,773 fans per game or 92.99% of capacity for the season.

The February All-Star Game in Cleveland had a distinctive Phoenix flavor with John MacLeod and the Suns coaching staff at the helm of the West Squad, Walter Davis voted to a starting forward position by the fans and Dennis Johnson and Truck Robinson named to the team by a vote of Western Conference coaches. In the Playoffs the Suns were surprised by a gritty Kansas City Kings club that took the Western Conference semi-finals 4-3. At season's end, Dennis Johnson was named to the All-N.B.A. Team and was honored on the N.B.A.'s All-Defensive team. Suns General Manager Jerry Colangelo was named N.B.A. Executive of the year for the second time by The Sporting News. (Record: 57-25)

1981-82 — The Suns were dealt a crippling blow just days before the season opened, when guard Walter Davis suffered a fractured elbow in the club's final pre-season game. Kyle Macy joined Dennis Johnson, Alvan Adams, Len Robinson and Jeff Cook in the Suns opening night starting lineup. Seeking the right combinations and the proper chemistry, 1981-82 became a season of constant change and experimentation. Alvin Scott supplanted Cook in the starting lineup and later in the season Scott was supplanted by Alvan Adams, who shifted from his normal center position to allow Rich Kelley into the starting lineup.

Davis began his comeback in late December, but it became clear his elbow, still joined by surgical tension wires and screws, would keep him from reaching top form. He was used in a sixth man role most of the year.

With a month to go in the season, the Suns found themselves embroiled in a heated Western Conference playoff race. Phoenix, Golden State, Houston, San Antonio and Denver went up to the final weekend of the season before NBA tie-breaking procedures were utilized to finally settle qualification and home court advantage in the playoffs.

The Suns finished the regular season with a 46-36 mark, good enough for third place in the NBA Pacific Division and a playoff berth. Phoenix opened post-season play by defeating Denver 2-1 in a hard-fought mini-series, winning the deciding game on the Nuggets' home court.

In the Western Conference Semi-Finals, however, the Suns ran into a Los Angeles Lakers juggernaught and were swept by the Lakers (0-4). The Lakers went on to sweep San Antonio (4-0), then defeated Philadelphia 4-2 to win the NBA Championship.

Dennis Johnson was named to the NBA All-Defensive Team and was the lone Suns representative at the mid-season All-Star Game in New Jersey.

The Suns topped all previous club attendance records, averaging 11,883 fans per game. (Record: 46-36)

NBA SETS REGULAR SEASON ATTENDANCE RECORD

A record total of 9,989,410 fans attended NBA games during the 1981-82 season. According to published boxscore figures, this was the most ever to attend NBA games during a single season. The total broke the record of 9,937,575 established in 1979-80.

The NBA's average attendance was 10,593 per game, an increase of 5.7 percent over '80-81's average of 10,021. Leading the way were the New Jersey Nets, who were up 88 percent thanks in part to their move to the new Meadowlands Arena, and the Detroit Pistons, who enjoyed a 78 percent increase. The Houston Rockets' attendance increased by 25 percent while the Dallas Mavericks enjoyed a 22 percent jump. In addition, Denver, Los Angeles and Seattle were each up by more than 10 percent over a year ago

Following is a chart comparing the 1981-82 regular-season attendance figures with those from the 1980-81 season, team by team:

NBA WESTERN CONFERENCE MINI-SERIES

PHOENIX SUNS vs DENVER NUGGETS

Game #1 — April 20, 1982 @ Denver; Denver 129, Phoenix 113: Denver came out aggressively and took a nine point lead but Phoenix closed the gap to five at the end of the first quarter — Denver 35, Phoenix 30. Roles were switched in the second quarter with Phoenix taking control of the game. The Suns built a lead of nine points in the second quarter only to let Denver close the gap and take a 62-59 lead at halftime. The third quarter proved costly for Phoenix. Denver shot 72% from the field and forged a 22 point lead at the end of the third quarter. Phoenix shot only 35% from the field. Phoenix never recovered from that dismal third quarter and lost by 16, 129-113. Five Nuggets were in double figures, led by Kiki Vandeweghes's 29 points. Dan Issel and Billy McKinney had 24 apiece. The Suns were led by Kyle Macy with 22 points, while Truck Robinson had 13 rebounds.

Game #2 — April 23, 1982 @ Phoenix; Suns 126, Nuggets 110: The Suns took early control outscoring the Nuggets 40-21 and keeping the lead through the second quarter. The Suns' biggest lead was 23 points. The first half score was Phoenix 68 - Denver 54. In the second half Phoenix came out strong but had to beat back a determined Nugget charge that brought Denver to within five points. Phoenix then opened a 13 point lead at the end of the third quarter, 95-82. The Suns kept their intensity throughout the fourth quarter and won by 16, 126-110. Dennis Johnson led all scorers with 29 points and chipped in with eight assists, and seven rebounds. Alvan Adams had 25 points. Dan Issel poured in 26 points for Denver.

Game #3 — April 24, 1982 @ Denver; Phoenix 124, Denver 119. With playoff elimination facing the loser, the first period was hotly contested with Phoenix taking a five point lead into the second quarter, Phoenix 36, Denver 31. Phoenix shot 71% from the field in the opening quarter. Denver grabbed the lead, however, with a more aggressive running game, and led 70-66 at the end of the first half. The Nuggets kept the lead most of the third quarter but Phoenix countered with a strong run and took a seven point lead at the end of the third period, 102-95. Phoenix lost its lead with 2:23 to go in the game but came back to score the go-ahead points with 1:38 to go. Walter Davis led all scoring with 30 points. Dennis Johnson and Truck Robinson combined for 49 points. Denver had 6 scorers in double figures including Kiki Vandeweghe (24) and Dan Issel (26).

NBA WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMI-FINALS

PHOENIX SUNS vs LOS ANGELES LAKERS

Game #1 — April 27, 1982 @ Los Angeles; Lakers 115, Suns 96: The Lakers took control early in the game outscoring the Suns 32-20 in the first quarter. The Suns closed to within five points (53-58) at the half, but LA took control again in the second half outscoring the suns 57-43 in the final two periods. Four Lakers scored over 20 points — Wilkes (28), Magic Johnson (23), Nixon (22) and McAdoo (21). McAdoo had 12 rebounds; Magic added 10 assists. Dennis Johnson and Alvan Adams each had 20 points to lead the Suns. Truck Robinson had 14 rebounds. Abdul-Jabbar's 11 points was his lowest total ever vs the Suns.

Game #2 — April 28, 1982 @ Los Angeles — Lakers 117, Suns 98: Each team scored two more points than Game #1 and the Lakers defeated the Suns again by 19 points in an almost carbon copy of Game #1. The Lakers again led by 12 (28-16) after one quarter and withstood every Suns attempt to come back. Six Lakers were in double figures led by Abdul-Jabbar, who had 24 points. Nixon had 21 points. Magic Johnson had 19 points, 12 rebounds and 12 assists. The Suns were led by Dennis Johnson, who had 27 points, six assists and a club record-tying five steals. Truck Robinson sat out the second half suffering from food poisoning.

Game #3 — April 30, 1982 @ Phoenix; Lakers 114, Suns 106: The Suns came out aggressively and took a 10-2 lead in the first quarter in front of an enthusiastic sellout crowd of 14,660. Rich Kelley collected 14 first quarter points for the Suns, but the Lakers came back behind Abdul-Jabbar (12 points) and Magic Johnson (11) and the first period ended in a 36-36 deadlock. Beginning to take control of the boards, the Lakers took a three point (59-56) lead into the locker room at halftime. In spite of Walter Davis' 10 third quarter points for Phoenix, the Lakers built an 11 point 88-77 lead at the end of the third period and went up by as many as 14 points in the final quarter. The Suns closed to within six with just over two minutes to go, then closed to within five with 33 seconds left, but the Lakers prevailed 114-106. Wilkes led the Lakers with 26 points and Abdul-Jabbar had 22, while Magic Johnson had 23 points, 14 rebounds and nine assists. The Suns were led by Alvan Adams, who had 23 points and 12 rebounds.

Game #4 — May 2, 1982 @ Phoenix — Lakers 112, Suns 102: Before a crowd of 11,932, the Lakers jumped out to a 36-24 lead at the end of the first period behind the sizzling shooting of Norm Nixon. In the second quarter, the Suns countered with Larry Nance's 10 points and closed the gap to only three points, 57-54, at halftime. with four and one-half minutes to go in the third period, the scrappy Suns took a one point lead that see-sawed back and forth with the Lakers leading 87-84 at the end of three. With six minutes to go in the game, the Suns led by three points largely due to the efforts of Dennis Johnson, who would finish the game with 31 points, 19 coming in the second half. The Lakers, however, pulled away to a five point, 112-107 win to capture the series, 4-0. Jamaal Wilkes and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar each had 24 points for the Lakers; Magic Johnson had 12 assists for L.A. Besides Johnson, the Suns' leading scorers were Walter Davis (18 points), Larry Nance (16) and Alvan Adams (16).

The Lakers went on to defeat San Antonio (4-0) in the Western Conference Finals and then took Philadelphia 4-2 to capture the N.B.A. Championship for 1981-82.
